

Product Portfolio of  AMAKON
 ALPINE METAL TECH

Dear colleagues, dear partner, we want to take the opportunity to present you our new brand AMAKON which has substituted the former brand Koch H&K. As a consequence of changing global and local market conditions and emerging competitors that show aggressive strategies and irrational behaviour, various installations, products and applications lost financial attractiveness. For this reason, we decided to streamline the product portfolio of our brand AMAKON in the business field Rolling Mill. The future product portfolio of AMAKON will include the following business units, products, applications and services:

In future, we will clearly place the focus on the product segment Rolling Mill. In this connection, we want to inform you that we accept orders, contracts or projects from our customers or the Alpine Metal Tech Group case by case. The reason for this is a lack of competitiveness regarding resources and conditions, which minimize the chances for an order intake. Thus, no proactive sales activities are planned for this segment.

Since 2016, the business unit Material Handling has been successfully serving international customers with newly developed material handling equipment as well as spare parts for existing machines. Due to the steady, worldwide demand for material handling equipment in various industries, this business unit is not that responsive to economic crises.

Our goal is to offer tailor-made solutions and to convince customers with innovative products. We rely on high quality material, advanced manufacturing techniques and tested technologies. Our customers
